Important furniture and accessories by Gustav Stickley and other Arts and Crafts greats and iconic pieces by mid-century luminaries—such as a circa 1950 George Nelson wall clock, $575—fill Dreamlight Antiques, a shop located in a historic section of Louisville, Kentucky.

Georgia Horton

Pavilion Palms, part of the debut wallpaper collection of Georgia Horton (www.georgiahorton.com), is meant to evoke the atmosphere of a tropical palm grove.

Merry-Go-Hound

An early-20th-century Swedish carousel dog, $750, at Sandy Klempner Antiques & Interiors (www.sandyklempnerantiques.com; 518-781-3456) in Canaan, New York, stands 24 inches tall.

Ambassador-at-Large

The Ambassador buffet, $5,400, from Grace Home Furnishings (www.gracehomefurnishings.com; 310-476-7176) was inspired by a piece the firm's owners purchased from Los Angeles's Ambassador Hotel before its demolition.

Haute Seat

New York's Lerebours Antiques (www.lereboursantiques.com; 917-749-5866) has a pair of circa 1940–50 Maison Jansen chairs, $12,000. Reminiscent of 18th-century bergères, the form was reinterpreted for the 20th century.
